

Core 5 A singer you like

The singer that I like is Rihanna, who is a popular and successful American singer.

At first, I was attracted by her music. You see, she has got a special voice which sounds amazing no matter what song she's singing. And her music style is a mix of pop, R&B and hip-hop, which is welcomed by many people in the world. Plus, her performance is always very wonderful, like once she performed in Victoria's secret show, and the dress she wore, the catwalk she made as well as the make-up were all perfect. Besides, her cooperation with other musicians is never disappointing, like the song < Lemon > she sang with Pharrell Williams.

Then, her performance is very unique. She often starts her show with a cool dance performed by a big group of dancers, which creates a mysterious and powerful atmosphere for the audience. And she always walks around the stage many times to get used to the place, so that she can dance and move freely when the show is on, and express her feeling without worries. Also, she likes to treat her coworkers with a free trip after every show, and they work like a family, I guess that's why her performance is always very exciting.

So, I really admire and respect this woman.

关键词做法参考:

所串题目:

A person who is good at his/her job*	28
A person who often takes the airplane	29
A person you saw in the news who you really want to meet	30
An event that you find excited about	31
& A performance that you enjoyed	31

串题:

A person who is good at his/her job*

The person who is good at her job and I would like to talk about is Rihanna, who is a popular American singer and a successful businesswoman.

First, as a singer, her music is successful. You see, she has got a special voice which sounds amazing no matter what song she's singing. And her music style is a mix of pop, R&B and hip-hop, which is welcomed by many people in the world. Plus, her performance is always very creative, like once she performed in Victoria's secret show, and the dress she wore, the catwalk she made as well as the make-up were all perfect. Besides, her cooperation with other musicians is never disappointing, like the song < Lemon > she sang with Pharrell Williams.

Then, she is good at performing her talents on the stage. She often starts her show with a cool dance performed by a big group of dancers, which creates a mysterious and powerful atmosphere for the audience. And she always walks around the stage many times to get used to the place, so that she can dance and move freely when the show is on, and express her feeling without worries. Also, she likes to treat her coworkers with a free trip after every show, and they work like a family, I guess that's why her performance is always very exciting.

So, I think she is really good at her job.

KMF 考满分

留学考生的在线课堂

A person who often takes the airplane

The person who often takes the airplane is Rihanna, who is a popular American singer and a successful businesswoman.

First, she needs to sing and perform for different shows by airplane. You see, she has got a special voice which sounds amazing no matter what song she's singing. And her music style is a mix of pop, R&B and hip-hop, which is welcomed by many people in the world. Plus, her performance is always very creative, like once she flew to perform in Victoria's secret show, and the dress she wore, the catwalk she made as well as the make-up were all perfect. Besides, her cooperation with other musicians is never disappointing, like the song < Lemon > she sang with Pharrell Williams.

Also, she often needs to hold concerts in different countries and fly there in advance for rehearsal. She needs to start her show with a cool dance performed by a big group of dancers, which creates a mysterious and powerful atmosphere for the audience. And she always walks around the stage many times to get used to the place, so that she can dance and move freely when the show is on, and express her feeling without worries. Also, she likes to treat her coworkers with a free trip after every show, so that's one of the reasons for taking planes.

So, that's the person who often takes the airplane.

A person you saw in the news who you really want to meet

The person I saw in the news and would like to meet is Rihanna, who is a popular American singer and a successful businesswoman.

If possible, I would love to listen to her singing right in front of me. You see, she has got a special voice which sounds amazing no matter what song she's singing. And her music style is a mix of pop, R&B and hip-hop, which is welcomed by many people in the world. Plus, her performance is always very creative, like once she performed in Victoria's secret show, and the dress she wore, the catwalk she made as well as the make-up were all perfect. Besides, her cooperation with other musicians is never disappointing, like the song < Lemon > she sang with Pharrell Williams was one of my favorite songs.

Also, I would love to watch her concerts closely, because her performances are very unique. She often starts her show with a cool dance performed by a big group of dancers, which creates a mysterious and powerful atmosphere for the audience. And she always walks around the stage many times to get used to the place, so that she can dance and move freely when the show is on, and express her feeling without worries. Also, she likes to treat her coworkers with a free trip after every show, and they work like a family, I guess that's why her performance is always very exciting.

So, I really want to meet Rihanna one day.

KMF考满分

留学考生的在线课堂

An event that you find excited about & A performance that you enjoyed

The last time I found excited about an event was the time I watched Rihanna's concert.

It was so amazing when you actually see her singing and dancing in front of you. You see, she has got a special voice which sounds amazing no matter what song she's singing. And her music style is a mix of pop, R&B and hip-hop, which is welcomed by many people in the world. Plus, her performance was very creative, ~~like once she performed in Victoria's secret show,~~ and the dress she wore, the catwalk she made as well as the make-up were all perfect. Besides, her cooperation with other musicians in the concert was not disappointing, like the song < Lemon > she sang with Pharrell Williams was so great.

Also, the whole performance was very unique. She started her show with a cool dance performed by a big group of dancers, which created a mysterious and powerful atmosphere for the audience. And she always walked around the stage many times to get used to the place, so that she could dance and move freely when the show is on, and express her feeling without worries. Also, I heard she treated her coworkers with a free trip after that show, and they work like a family, I guess that's why her performance was so exciting.

So, I really enjoyed that show and it made me excited as well.

Core 6 A uniform you wore

I would like to talk about my uniform back in middle school.

At that time, the uniform was a must for every student. Our school asked us to wear uniform every day, I guess that was because they wanted us to focus on the study rather than some fashion. Our uniform is in blue and white, and there was a school badge on the left side of the chest. Every semester, we would buy two sets of uniform, one for summer and one for winter.

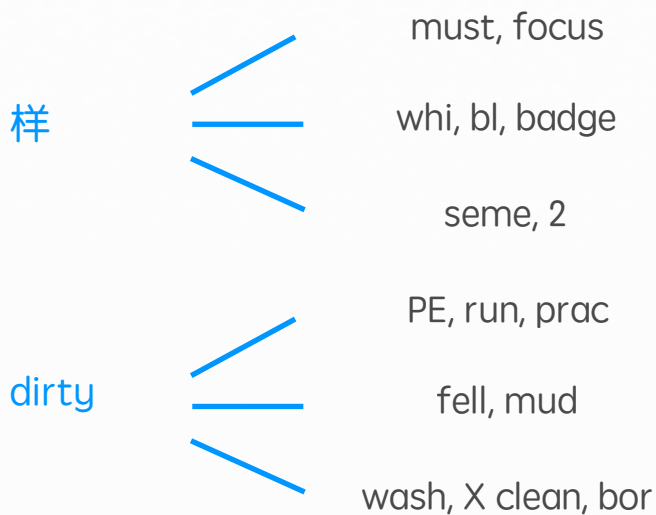

I remember one time, I was so panic because of the uniform. That day, I wore my uniform to the PE class, and we were asked to go running and practice volleyball. And I was so terrible at catching the ball, so it hit on me several times, and one time I even accidentally fell on the ground. As a result my uniform was full of mud. I put it under some running water right away and tried to clean it, but unfortunately I couldn't make it. So I had to borrow the uniform of my older sister to wear the next day, while mine was being washed and fixed in the dry cleaning shop.

So, you can really see that the uniform was a very important item for us at the time, so that's why I would like to talk about it.

关键词做法参考：

所串题目：

A time when you didn't tell your friend the truth	34
A time when someone apologized to you	35
Something you borrowed from others	36
Something you found that other people lost	37
/Something you lost but got back at last/	37

串题

A time when you didn't tell your friend the truth

Once I almost ruined my friend's uniform and I lied about it at first, in case she got too mad at me.

I didn't dare to tell her the truth, because at that time, the uniform was a must for every student. Our school asked us to wear uniform every day, I guess that was because they wanted us to focus on the study rather than some fashion. Our uniform is in blue and white, and there was a school badge on the left side of the chest. Every semester, we would buy two sets of uniform, one for summer and one for winter, which means she only got that one to wear that semester.

So when I made the uniform I borrowed from her dirty, I was so panic. That day, I wore the uniform to the PE class, and we were asked to go running and practice volleyball. And I was so terrible at catching the ball, so it hit on me several times, and one time I even accidentally fell on the ground. As a result my uniform was full of mud. I put it under some running water right away and tried to clean it, but unfortunately I couldn't make it. So I had to give her my older sister's to wear the next day, since they wore the same size, while hers was being washed and fixed in the dry cleaning shop.

So, I just told her that my sister's uniform was actually hers.

A time when someone apologized to you

Once my friend borrowed my uniform, and accidentally made it dirty, so she apologized to me for that.

She felt sorry for that, because at that time, the uniform was a must for every student. Our school asked us to wear uniform every day, I guess that was because they wanted us to focus on the study rather than some fashion. Our uniform is in blue and white, and there was a school badge on the left side of the chest. Every semester, we would buy two sets of uniform, one for summer and one for winter, which means I only got that one to wear that semester.

So when she made the uniform she borrowed from me dirty, she was so panic. That day, she wore my uniform to the PE class, and she was asked to go running and practice volleyball. And she was so terrible at catching the ball, so it hit on her several times, and one time she even accidentally fell on the ground. As a result, my uniform was full of mud. She told me when saying sorry that She put it under some running water right away and tried to clean it, but unfortunately she couldn't make it. So she gave me the uniform of her older sister to wear the next day, while mine was being washed and fixed in the dry cleaning shop.

So, this is the time I would like to talk about.

Something you borrowed from others

Something I borrowed from my older sister once is her uniform.

I lost mine accidentally, but at that time, the uniform was a must for every student. Our school asked us to wear uniform every day, I guess that was because they wanted us to focus on the study rather than some fashion. So, I had to borrow my sister's. Our uniform is in blue and white, and there was a school badge on the left side of the chest. Every semester, we would buy two sets of uniform, one for summer and one for winter, which means I only got that one to wear that semester.

So when I made the uniform I borrowed from her dirty, I was so panic.

That day, I wore the uniform to the PE class, and we were asked to go running and practice volleyball. And I was so terrible at catching the ball, so it hit on me several times, and one time I even accidentally fell on the ground. As a result my uniform was full of mud. I put it under some running water right away and tried to clean it, but unfortunately I couldn't make it. So I had to take it to the dry cleaning shop immediately.

Fortunately I cleaned it at last and that was the whole story about it.

Something you found that other people lost /Something you lost but got back at last/

Once I lost my precious uniform accidentally, but thank god I got it back.

At that time, the uniform was a must for every student. Our school asked us to wear uniform every day, I guess that was because they wanted us to focus on the study rather than some fashion. Our uniform is in blue and white, and there was a school badge on the left side of the chest. Every semester, we would buy two sets of uniform, one for summer and one for winter, which means I only got that one to wear that semester.

So when I lost it, I was so panic. That day, I put the uniform in the changing room after the PE class, since we were asked to go running and practice volleyball. And I was so terrible at catching the ball, so it hit on me several times, and one time I even accidentally fell on the ground. As a result my uniform was full of mud. I put it under some running water right away and tried to clean it, but forgot to take it with me. So I thought I lost it at first. Then a classmate found it and gave it back to me, and that saved my life !

So, that's something I lost but got back later.

Core 7 A delayed trip

A delayed trip I'd like to talk about was once when I flew back to Beijing from Berlin, my transfer flight in Poland got delayed.

Before the delay, we already sensed some unusual signs. We were all very tired, since we woke up very early that morning, and carried a very heavy suitcase to the Berlin airport by train. When we got to Poland, we were supposed to be there only for four hours, and then we could take another flight to Beijing. But it suddenly rained heavily and seemed not so possible to stop very soon. So some of the passengers started to get very upset, and the airline workers had to comfort them several times.

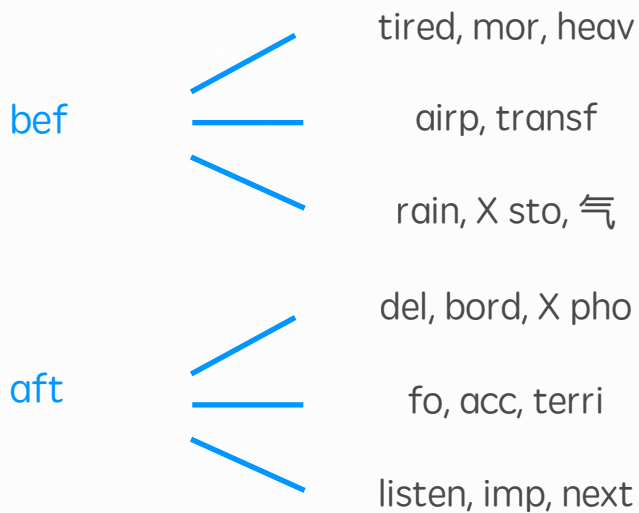

After a while, the broadcast informed us that this flight was delayed because of the heavy rain, and passengers please wait patiently. While waiting, I got so bored because I couldn't use my phone. I didn't have a local Sim card and it didn't have any signal. For hours, it was still raining, so some of the passengers started to ask for food and accommodation, some of them even showed a very terrible attitude. And I had to listen to them very carefully just in case I missed any important information and didn't know what we were supposed to do next.

At last, the airline workers took us to a hotel nearby and said that new flights would be arranged tomorrow and send us home, so that was the end of the story.

关键词做法参考:

所串题目:

A time when the weather stop you from doing what you've planned to do	40
A time you couldn't use the mobile phone	41
A job that you don't want to do	42
A time when you felt tired but had to stay awakened	43

串题:

A time when the weather stop you from doing what you've planned to do

Once when I flew back to Beijing from Berlin, my transfer flight in Poland got delayed by the weather.

Before the delay, we already sensed some unusual signs. We were all very tired, since we woke up very early that morning, and carried a very heavy suitcase to the Berlin airport by train. When we got to Poland, we were supposed to be there only for four hours, and then we could take another flight to Beijing. But it suddenly rained heavily and seemed not so possible to stop very soon. So some of the passengers started to get very upset, and the airline workers had to comfort them several times.

After a while, the broadcast informed us that this flight was delayed because of the heavy rain, and passengers please wait patiently. While waiting, I got so bored because I couldn't use my phone. I didn't a local Sim card and it didn't have any signal. For hours, it was still raining, so some of the passengers started to ask for food and accommodation, some of them even showed a very terrible attitude. And I had to listen to them very carefully just in case I missed any important information and didn't know what we were supposed to do next.

So, the whole plan was greatly affected by the rain at that time.

A time you couldn't use the mobile phone

Once I couldn't use the mobile phone during the whole trip in Europe, since I was somehow not allowed to activate international roaming.

I had to follow my friend's order all the time, since she could use the phone to look for information and make the plan. One day, We were all very tired, since we woke up very early that morning, and carried a very heavy suitcase to the Berlin airport by train. When we got to Poland, we were supposed to be there only for four hours, and then we could take another flight to Beijing. But it suddenly rained heavily and seemed not so possible to stop very soon. ~~So some of the passengers started to get very upset, and the airline workers had to comfort them several times.~~

After a while, the broadcast informed us that this flight was delayed because of the heavy rain, and passengers please wait patiently. While waiting, I got so bored because I couldn't use my phone. I didn't have a local Sim card and it didn't have any signal. For hours, it kept raining, the only fun for me was to listen to some of the passengers asking for food and accommodation, some of them even showed a very terrible attitude. And I had to listen to them very carefully just in case I missed any important information and didn't know what we were supposed to do next.

So, that was pretty much the only experience where I couldn't use my phone.

A job that you don't want to do

The job I don't want to do is airline staff, because according to the things I went through, I think this job is very depressing and difficult.

First, I think they can't sleep and rest well in the job. They are all very tired, since they have to wake up very early every morning, and carry a very heavy suitcase to the airport. When they get there, they can be there only for four hours, and then they have to take another flight to another city. If it suddenly rained heavily and seemed not so possible to stop very soon. So some of the passengers may start to get very upset, and the airline workers have to comfort them several times. It can be so tiring.

I remember once I saw the passengers got mad at the airline staffs. The broadcast informed us that this flight was delayed because of the heavy rain, and passengers please wait patiently. ~~While waiting, I got so bored because I couldn't use my phone. I didn't a local Sim card and it didn't have any signal.~~ For hours, it was still raining, so some of the passengers started to ask for food and accommodation, some of them even showed a very terrible attitude. And I had to listen to them very carefully just in case I missed any important information and didn't know what we were supposed to do next.

So, according to what I have experienced, I don't want to be an airline staff.

A time when you felt tired but had to stay awakened

A time I felt really tired but had stay awakened was during the transfer in Poland airport.

We were all very tired, since we woke up very early that morning, and carried a very heavy suitcase to the Berlin airport by train. When we got to Poland, we were supposed to be there only for four hours, and then we could take another flight to Beijing. But it suddenly rained heavily and seemed not so possible to stop very soon. So some of the passengers started to get very upset, and the airline workers had to comfort them several times.

Also, because of this emergency, we had to stay awakened to wait for further notice. After a while, the broadcast informed us that this flight was delayed because of the heavy rain, and passengers please wait patiently. While waiting, I got so bored because I couldn't use my phone. I didn't a local Sim card and it didn't have any signal. For hours, it was still raining, so some of the passengers started to ask for food and accommodation, some of them even showed a very terrible attitude. And I had to listen to them very carefully just in case I missed any important information and didn't know what we were supposed to do next.

So, that was the time I had to stay awake despite the tiredness.

Core 8 A small company that's successful

Well, a small company that is successful would be the one that my classmates founded during the university time. It mainly helps students to apply for exchange programs and arrange their tickets and accommodation.

The reason for this company to be built was that there were a lot of needs. Many students had the needs to study abroad, but the chances offered by our own departments were very limited. Then some of them started to search for information and apply for an exchange program by themselves, however, all the application and communication were not easy to them to handle on their own. So, some of my classmates took the chance to start this company and make some money by doing this job for those students, so they applied for the start-up sponsorship from the school and founded this company.

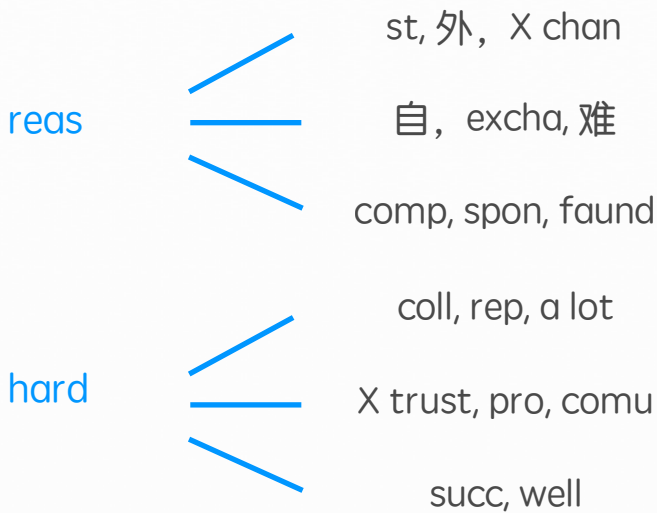

However, it wasn't easy for them to run a company at first. They needed to collect all the course information in different overseas universities, and organized them into a clear report for every client, which is a lot of work. Also, the students who used this service didn't have faith in them so much at first, so they spent quite a long time promoting their company and communicating with their clients. With their hard work, they finally made it and more and more students would purchase their service, so it worked out pretty well.

So, that's the company I would like to talk about.

关键词做法参考:

所串题目:

The biggest challenge you've ever encountered	46
A time when you were in a team with others	46
A person who taught you something important	47
A new skill you have learned (注* how to run a business)	47
A film you would like to talk about with your friends	48

串题

The biggest challenge you've ever encountered

A time when you were in a team with others

Well, The biggest challenge I have ever encountered was building up a business team in the university with my friends .

The reason for this company to be built was that there were a lot of needs. Many students had the needs to study abroad, but the chances offered by our own departments were very limited. Then some of them started to search for information and apply for an exchange program by themselves, however, all the application and communication were not easy to them to handle on their own. So, we took the chance to start this company and make some money by doing this job for those students, so we applied for the start-up sponsorship from the school and founded this company.

However, it wasn't easy for us to run it at first. We needed to collect all the course information in different overseas universities, and organized them into a clear report for every client, which is a lot of work. Also, the students who used this service didn't have faith in us so much at first, so we spent quite a long time promoting their company and communicating with our clients. With our hard work, we finally made it and more and more students would purchase our service, so it worked out pretty well.

So, that's the challenge we had before.

A person who taught you something important

A new skill you have learned (注* how to run a business)

Once my older brother taught me how to take the chance and earn some money by myself in the university. He is a leader in his company, so I think his advice was really useful.

The reason for this to happen was I told him that Many students had the needs to study abroad, but the chances offered by our own departments were very limited. Then some of them started to search for information and apply for an exchange program by themselves, however, all the application and communication were not easy to them to handle on their own. So, we wanted to take the chance to start this company and make some money by doing this job for those students, but we were not sure what todo. so he taught me to apply for the start-up sponsorship from the school and founded this company.

And then he walked me through the things I needed to make this chance work. First, We needed to collect all the course information in different overseas universities, and organized them into a clear report for every client, which is a lot of work. Also, the students who used this service didn't have faith in us so much at first, so we spent quite a long time promoting their company and communicating with our clients under my brother's guidance. With our hard work, we finally made it and more and more students would purchase our service, so it worked out pretty well.

So, I think my brother really taught me a great lesson by helping me build up the team.

A film you would like to talk about with your friends

The film I want to share with my friends is the one that talks about how 3 people tried their best to build up a successful study tour company.

In the movie, the reason for this company to be built was that there were a lot of needs. Many students had the needs to study abroad, but the chances offered by our own departments were very limited. Then some of them started to search for information and apply for an exchange program by themselves, however, all the application and communication were not easy to them to handle on their own. So, these 3 people took the chance to start this company and make some money by doing this job for those students, so they applied for the start-up sponsorship from the school and founded this company.

However, it wasn't easy for them to run a company at first. They needed to collect all the course information in different overseas universities, and organized them into a clear report for every client, which is a lot of work. Also, the students who used this service didn't have faith in them so much at first, so they spent quite a long time promoting their company and communicating with their clients. With their hard work, they finally made it and more and more students would purchase their service, so it worked out pretty well.

So, I think this movie is really inspiring and would like to share it with my friends.

KMF考满分

留学考生的在线课堂

雅思考满分App

扫描左侧二维码，下载雅思考满分App